

Numbers Assignment Policy

1. Assigning of Competition Numbers: (Refer 2.1.5)

All numbers are assigned by the AFM License Committee. Any rider wishing to renew his or her license and retain their competition number from the previous year may do so by filing a complete application along with the applicable fees no later than the announced cut-off date, as set by the License Committee. After the cut-off date, numbers will be assigned by the committee, at its discretion, with consideration given to the rider's years of active membership. The general rules used to assign numbers are as follows: 700-999 numbers are given to First Year (FY) and Novice Clubman (NC) riders, 400-999 are given to Novices, Experts have access to all numbers, and 2 digit numbers are saved for Expert riders with a minimum of 3 years racing experience with the AFM. The 1-5 numbers are given to the year end Top Five finishers in Formula Pacific, and the 6-10 numbers are given to the year end Top Overall point earners...NOTE: the people who are already in 1-5 from Formula Pacific standing will be excluded from the 6-10 numbers, and the next down Overall points earner will get that number; there will be no one assigned two numbers from 1-10.

No changes to the issued member number will be made after it has been issued; no exceptions. Any deviation from the above policies is at the discretion of the License Committee.

Motorcycle must bear the rider's official assigned AFM number. Exceptions must be approved by both Race Director and Chief Scorer. (Refer 8.2)

2. Reciprocity Licensing: (Refer 2.1.3)

Riders visiting from other recognized roadracing clubs are allowed to become Reciprocity Members. After completing an AFM application and paying the applicable fee, the rider may enter AFM events. The rider must provide documentation from the other racing club that the rider is classed as a Novice or Expert. If the rider cannot provide such documentation, the rider must take and pass an AFM authorized school. Reciprocity members may earn race day awards & contingencies, but will not accrue points toward year end awards. Reciprocity riders may upgrade their status to Full Membership at any time before July 1st of each race season; no upgrades are allowed after this date. In the event of an upgrade, all championship points earned to date will be applied. Motorcycles must bear the rider's official assigned AFM number. Exceptions must be approved by both Race Director and Chief Scorer.
